PROBERS DEMAND BANK'S RECORDS

Threaten Contempt Proceedings Against Mal Daugherty.

MISS STINSON AGAIN ON STAND

Testifies That Five Friends of Attorney General Daugherty and Jesse Smith Cleaned Up $33,000,000 In Sinclair Oil Deal—Chairman Brookhart Would Force Suspension of Daugherty From the Cabinet.

Washington, March 27.—Chairman Brookhart of the senate Daugherty committee declared that unless the records of the Midland National bank of Washington, D. C., where Jesse Smith kept an account, are produced for the information of the committee, an attempt will be made to take legal action against Mal Daugherty, president of the bank and a brother of the attorney general.

Brookhart said if Daugherty refuses to produce the records the committee can bring contempt proceedings. One of the first sequels of such a move, Brookhart said, would be a demand that the president suspend the attorney general on the ground that Daugherty should not be expected to sponsor indictment proceedings against his own brother.

The original object of the Brookhart committee's work was the removal of Daugherty from the cabinet. Such a turn as Brookhart is discussing might bring about indirectly the result which the protesting senators have been unable to obtain by direct pressure.

The situation has developed coincidentally with the renewal of the suggestions from leading Republican senators that Daugherty resign. But there has been no apparent change so far as President Coolidge is concerned.

Miss Stinson Recalled.
Miss Roxie Stinson, resuming her story before the senate committee, said that five friends of Attorney General Daugherty and Jesse Smith "cleaned up $33,000,000 in a Sinclair oil deal." She said the late Jesse Smith, her divorced husband, had told her about it.

Witness said Smith told her that Daugherty and Smith were in the "deal" and "they were so about it." After asking if she knew whether E. B. McLean was one of the five men and receiving no answer, the committee turned aside from the matter. She refused to name the five friends she said were involved. The committee will consider her refusal in executive session.

After openly accusing Daugherty of "moral responsibility" for Smith's death in Daugherty's apartment here last May, though she said she was convinced Smith was a suicide, Miss Stinson launched into a story of Smith's financial affairs.

"I have no doubt in my mind but what Jesse Smith committed suicide," Miss Stinson declared. "But I do feel that Harry Daugherty was morally responsible for his death. I feel that from the way Jesse arranged his house and all his effects that he contemplated killing himself some time before he did, but I think he was driven to it by his association with Harry Daugherty."

Miss Stinson testified the total inventory of the estate left by Jesse Smith was about $214,000. The 75 $1,000 bills she claimed she saw in Smith's possession were not listed in the inventory, witness said. She stated Mr. Martin, special assistant to the attorney general, was in Daugherty's apartments at the time Smith died.

"Was a money belt found in Smith's effects after his death?" asked Senator Moses. "Not that I know of," Miss Stinson said.

Ashurst questioned Miss Stinson about Jesse Smith's will. She said his last will was written in his own handwriting on Wardman Park hotel stationery.

"And that will was not probated?" "No, sir."

King Refuses to Abdicate.
Athens, March 27.—The Greek constitutional committee issued a proclamation against dethronement of the dynasty, alleging that a "republican military minority" was responsible for the assembly's action. It urges the Greek people to make any sacrifice to support their constitutional rights. Preparations are under way to hold a national plebiscite. King George of Greece announced at Bucharest he will refuse to abdicate the Greek throne until a national plebiscite confirms the action of the assembly.

Enactment of Law to License Ohio Auto Drivers to Be Urged.

Cleveland, March 27.—The Safe Drivers' club will demand enactment of a law requiring the licensing of all automobile drivers at the next session of the legislature. Jay E. Thompson, secretary of the club, said such an act will save the state $12,000,000 annually. "There are 1,000,000 automobiles in Ohio," Mr. Thompson said. "The present economic loss from automobile accidents in Ohio is estimated at $32,000,000 a year. Licenses for drivers alone would save half of this, or $16,000,000, if the reduction of accidents is as great as that in Massachusetts."

Figuring two drivers for each car, drivers' licenses at $2 each would cost $4,000,000, Mr. Thompson declared. This he deducts from the estimated saving of $16,000,000, making the actual saving at $12,000,000.

CRABBE PREDICTS PROSECUTIONS

Grand Jury to Probe Doings of Liquor Court Officers.

Columbus, March 27.—Grand jury investigation and prosecutions of Lucas county liquor court officers for law violations in "commercialized enforcement" of the prohibition statutes are a certainty, Attorney General Crabbe declared, following his return from Toledo. "Judge Killits did not exaggerate a bit in his letter attacking the methods being used in Lucas county liquor law courts," said Crabbe. "Conditions have been deplorable. Incident happened while I was in Toledo which bore out the gravity of the charges."

Crabbe left Assistant Attorney General Griswold at Toledo to co-operate with Lucas county authorities in investigating conditions. Griswold will come back to Columbus the end of this week, but will return to Toledo again next week to remain until his work is completed.

An investigation into the workings of each of the 19 justice courts in Franklin county is under way.

HAYES ISSUES STATEMENT

Cox Managers May Launch National Wide Drive For Delegates.

Columbus, March 27.—Robert S. Hayes, Ohio manager for James M. Cox, intimates in a statement that although it had not been intended to make a nationwide campaign on behalf of the candidacy of former Governor Cox for the Democratic presidential nomination, such a campaign now is contemplated as a result of an invasion of Ohio by supporters of William G. McAdoo. The statement says: "It is becoming more evident daily throughout the country that the people are looking to Governor Cox for leadership and daily opportunities are met to start campaigns in other states." Hayes declares that Cox supporters are confident of a solid Ohio delegation pledged to the former governor at the national convention.

Cuts in Expenditures by Shipping Board, Veterans' Bureau and Other Agencies Proposed in the Independent Offices Appropriation Bill—Actualities to Be Quizzed as to Cost of Soldier Bonus.

Washington, March 27.—The child labor constitutional amendment, which would enable congress to enact anti-child labor legislation, was favorably reported by the house judiciary committee.

The measure will immediately be given a place in the house legislative program, according to Republican Leader Longworth.

The supreme court has twice held that congress, under the constitution, is without power to regulate child labor.

Reduction in expenditures by the veterans' bureau, the shipping board and several other government agencies is proposed in the independent offices appropriation bill reported to the house. The measure carries $398,196,890, or $103,324,486 less than last year's appropriations, and $241,741 less than budget estimates.

Of the total $349,065,000 would go to the veterans' bureau, a reduction of $98,388,086 under a year ago. The shipping board and emergency fleet corporation would be allotted $30,344,000, or $20,067,500 less than the last bill carried. The bill provides $75,000 for President Coolidge's salary, $25,000 for his traveling expenses, $93,520 for salaries and $37,000 for contingent expenses in the executive office and $55,540 for the pay of the white house police. Other items include $225,500 for the alien property custodian's office and $947,115 for the civil service commission.

The senate finance committee again sought to bridge the $2,500,000,000 gap between two sets of government estimates as to the probable cost of the soldier bonus bill passed by the house. Joseph McCoy, government actuary, who figured the bill would cost $4,856,750,087, and H. P. Brown, veterans' bureau actuary, whose figures were used by the house in estimating the cost of the bill at $2,119,000,000, both were asked to appear before the committee.

AT WHITE HOUSE

Coolidge Holds Conferences With Daugherty and Lodge.

Washington, March 27.—President Coolidge and Attorney General Daugherty held their first private conference since the senate committee began digging into Daugherty's administration of the department of justice. Following the meeting Daugherty said only routine matters were discussed. Shortly before Daugherty saw the president Senator Lodge conferred with Mr. Coolidge at length. Prior to launching of the investigation Lodge urged the president to remove Daugherty. White house officials, however, said there was no connection between the two conferences. Daugherty later had a second conference with the president, remaining with Mr. Coolidge for more than half an hour. He would make no comment on leaving the white house.

MANINGTON TO RETURN

Will Appear Before the Committee Investigating Daugherty.

Washington, March 27.—Secretary Hughes notified Chairman Brookhart of the senate Daugherty investigating committee that he had been informed by Howard Manington that he intended to sail from France for the United States on March 29 and would appear before the committee. Manington's name has frequently been mentioned in testimony in connection with liquor deals.

The committee after a week of effort obtained services of a subpoena on Jap Muma, New York correspondent, who is wanted as a witness in connection with the alleged transportation of the Dempsey-Carpenter fight films.

ACTION EXPECTED BEFORE MONDAY

Sinclair Case to Be Presented to Grand Jury Today.

CASE OF CHASE TAKEN UP

House Judiciary Committee Considering Senate Resolution Asking Impeachment of Son-in-Law of Former Secretary Fall—Al Jennings, Reformed Outlaw, Among Witnesses Called by Senate Oil Committee.

Washington, March 27.—District Attorney Peyton Gordon announced he would today present to the district grand jury the contempt case of Harry F. Sinclair, who refused to answer questions of the senate committee investigating the naval oil reserve leases.

Gordon said that Former Senator Atlee Pomerene and Owen J. Roberts, special government oil counsel, would be asked to participate in the case. By rushing the presentation of his case, Mr. Gordon hopes to get action before the life of the present grand jury expires next Monday.

The senate resolution asking impeachment of C. C. Chase, son-in-law of Albert B. Fall, will be taken up today by the house judiciary committee.

Chairman Graham of the committee was critical of the senate's action. "A suggestion to impeach does not come with very good grace from the body which has judicial power to try the question," he said.

The report that Chase had resigned before refusing to testify before the senate added weight to the opinion of many members that the situation did not demand unusual haste.

Witnesses to be heard by the senate oil committee include Al Jennings, reformed Oklahoma bandit, who says he knows something of the deal rumored to have been proposed by Jake Hamon to have himself appointed secretary of the interior.

Officials of the Empire Trust company of New York are to tell what collateral Will Hays deposited with them in connection with a Republican party campaign note. Hays has testified he used the $75,000 donation of Sinclair to pay the interest on the note.

F. W. Sanderson, Minneapolis geologist, is supposed to have some geological information regarding the physical features of Teapot Dome naval reserve.

PAY BOOST FOR POSTAL MEN

New Says It May Necessitate Complete Revision of Budget.

Washington, March 27.—Postmaster General New is of the opinion that complete revision of the budget or higher postal rates will be necessary to provide funds for increased pay to 250,000 postal workers. He declared that unless bills now pending before the senate and house were amended drastically it would require $150,000,000 annually to meet salaries for employees of the postoffice department. The postmaster general made it clear that the postoffice department was not opposing an increase in wages of its workers, but that it did object seriously to proposed bills which would call for a blanket increase and make necessary a direct levy of millions of dollars upon the public treasury or increased assessments upon the public. New explained:

"I do not believe that it is fair to treat the man who has to meet living conditions in New York and Detroit in exactly the same way as the man who has to meet the living conditions in the towns that are widely divergent in character."

Signed Contract as Joke.

Kansas City, March 27.—Mrs. George V. Shaw never lived with Paul Hardman, attorney, as his common law wife, Mrs. Florence Lytle, mother of Mrs. Shaw, stated. Hardman asked New York authorities to charge Mrs. Shaw and her husband with bigamy because they were married before he obtained a divorce decree. Mrs. Shaw contends she signed a common law marriage contract as a joke in law class.

Alleges Lack of Co-operation.

San Antonio, Tex., March 27.—Ranger Captain B. C. Baldwin, who testified that dry law enforcement in Texas was a "joke" before the senate Daugherty investigation committee, charged in a telegram to Commissioner Haynes that since his return from Washington federal dry officers here had refused to co-operate with state rangers in dry law enforcement.

TO FORM NEW MINISTRY

Premier Poincare Expected to Resume Office Today.

Paris, March 27.—Premier Poincare is expected to remain at the helm and form a new ministry without delay. President Millerand urged the premier to resume office in view of the imminence of the elections to be held in May and the foreign situation, especially with the experts' report due shortly.

Defeat and resignation of Poincare, former president and several times premier of France, came on a comparatively minor issue after the premier had survived storms of criticism for his policy towards Germany and his fiscal program.

The government's pension bill was presented in the chamber of deputies by Count De Lasteyrie, who made it a question of confidence in the government. By a narrow margin, seven votes, the deputies defeated the measure.

Poincare immediately met with his ministers and after some discussion of reforming the cabinet went to the Elysee and presented the resignation of the entire cabinet to the president.

Political observers say Count De Lasteyrie made a grave tactical error in putting the question to the chamber in the form in which he did. The finance minister, they say, is most unpopular anyway, and Poincare may be glad of the opportunity to get rid of him.

It was thought likely that Millerand might persuade Poincare to resume.

Miners Ratify Agreement.

Indianapolis, March 27.—It was announced here that the new wage scale agreement has been ratified by the members of the United Mine Workers' international organization. Present wages and working conditions will continue under the new agreement, which was negotiated at Jacksonville, Fla., last month, and will be in effect for another three years, beginning April 1. Although the contract embraces only the central competitive field, composed of Indiana, Illinois, Ohio and western Pennsylvania, all other coal mining contracts are based on it. At the expiration of the last two preceding wage agreements, the bituminous miners went on strike for a short time.

WOMAN UNDER ARREST

Bonded Liquor From Canada Seized by Cleveland Police.

Cleveland, March 27.—Mrs. Minnie Sack, 30, of Toronto, Canada, is under arrest here. Warrants have been issued here charging two men, alleged companions of Mrs. Sack, with a conspiracy to smuggle into Cleveland wholesale quantities of Canadian liquor. A huge quantity of bonded liquor has been seized and is being held in a United States warehouse. Arraigned before United States Commissioner Martin U. Monahan, Mrs. Sack denied any knowledge of the plot. She was held in county jail in default of $5,000 bail.

DOINGS IN OHIO

Walton's Claim Slashed.

Columbus, March 27.—Randolph W. Walton of this city is to receive $50 for his services in the prosecution of charges against Mrs. Mae E. Standard, former chief matron at the Girls' Industrial school. Attorney General Crabbe announced that he will certify that amount for payment, as a result of the supreme court's decision in allowing a writ of mandamus against the state's legal officer. Walton sued to recover $1,500 as his fee.

File Suits For Damages.

Dayton, O., March 27.—Protesting against use of the Miami river to carry away the sewage from Dayton and surrounding territory, owners of 24 farms along the river southwest of Dayton, filed suits for damages totaling $189,000 against the city of Dayton in common pleas court. Pollution of the river has made living conditions in that vicinity intolerable and has decreased the value of their farmland, it is claimed.

W. C. T. U. in Session.

Columbus, March 27.—Midyear executive meeting of the Ohio Woman's Christian Temperance union is in session here. State Prohibition Commissioner McDonald and Judge Florence Allen were speakers. Peace, law enforcement and the coming primary election are being discussed. Thomas Hare, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, will speak at the closing session this evening.

Kettering Elected Chairman.

Columbus, March 27.—Charles F. Kettering of Dayton has been elected chairman of the board of trustees of Ohio State university to finish the term of Dr. Thomas C. Mendenhall, who died Saturday. Lawrence E. Laybourne was elected vice chairman of the board to take the position formerly held by Mr. Kettering.

Slayer Granted Stay.

Toledo, March 27.—The court of appeals certified a stay of execution for James Brady of Sandusky, wife slayer, sentenced to die in the electric chair at the penitentiary next Tuesday. Appeal will be heard April 14.

Auto Hits Train.

Marysville, O., March 27.—Three persons were injured when Floyd Grubbs of this city drove his automobile against a train at Kile, Union county. The injured: Miss Corinne Nunemaker, Donald Stubbs and Grubbs.

Carload of Beer Seized.

Akron, O., March 27.—Four men were arrested and a carload of alleged beer seized in East Akron. There were 74 half barrels of beverage in the car, all of which were taken to the police station for analysis.

Gas Explosion Victim.

Columbus, March 27.—Fred Ott, 40, a victim of the gas explosion in which three other men were injured and which wrecked the basement of the Columbus Supply company, died at a hospital of his injuries.

Bandit Slain by Deputy.

Tulsa, Okla., March 27.—Ed Lockhart, notorious bandit, was shot and killed by Mont Grady, deputy sheriff of Tulsa county, and six deputies had surrounded a farm 15 miles from here, after receiving word that Lockhart was in hiding on the place. Lockhart surprised Grady and Deputy Jack Quast and disarmed them. He was forcing them to walk ahead of him when Grady suddenly regained possession of his revolver and shot Lockhart.

ACTION EXPECTED BEFORE MONDAY

Sinclair Case to Be Presented to Grand Jury Today.

CASE OF CHASE TAKEN UP

House Judiciary Committee Considering Senate Resolution Asking Impeachment of Son-in-Law of Former Secretary Fall—Al Jennings, Reformed Outlaw, Among Witnesses Called by Senate Oil Committee.

Washington, March 27.—District Attorney Peyton Gordon announced he would today present to the district grand jury the contempt case of Harry F. Sinclair, who refused to answer questions of the senate committee investigating the naval oil reserve leases.

Gordon said that Former Senator Alcee Pomerene and Owen J. Roberts, special government oil counsel, would be asked to participate in the case. By rushing the presentation of his case, Mr. Gordon hopes to get action before the life of the present grand jury expires next Monday.

The senate resolution asking impeachment of C. C. Chase, son-in-law of Albert B. Fall, will be taken up today by the house judiciary committee.

Chairman Graham of the committee was critical of the senate's action. "A suggestion to impeach does not come with very good grace from the body which has judicial power to try the question," he said.

The report that Chase had resigned before refusing to testify before the senate added weight to the opinion of many members that the situation did not demand unusual haste.

Witnesses to be heard by the senate oil committee include Al Jennings, reformed Oklahoma bandit, who says he knows something of the deal rumored to have been proposed by Jake Hamon to have himself appointed secretary of the interior.

Officials of the Empire Trust company of New York are to tell what collateral will have deposited with them in connection with a Republican party campaign note. Hays has testified he used the $75,000 donation of Sinclair to pay the interest on the note.

F. W. Sanderson, Minneapolis geologist, is supposed to have some technical information regarding the physical features of Teapot Dome naval reserve.

PAY BOOST FOR POSTAL MEN

New Says It May Necessitate Complete Revision of Budget.

Washington, March 27.—Postmaster General New is of the opinion that complete revision of the budget or higher postal rates will be necessary to provide funds for increased pay to 250,000 postal workers. He declared that unless bills now pending before the senate and house were amended drastically it would require $150,000,000 annually to meet salaries for employees of the postoffice department. The postmaster general made it clear that the postoffice department was not opposing an increase in wages of its workers, but that it did object seriously to proposed bills which would call for a blanket increase and make necessary a direct levy of millions of dollars upon the public treasury or increased assessments upon the public. New explained:

"I do not believe that it is fair to treat the man who has to meet living conditions in New York and Detroit in exactly the same way as the man who has to meet the living conditions in the towns that are widely divergent in character."

Signed Contract as Joke.

Kansas City, March 27.—Mrs. George V. Shaw never lived with Paul Hardman, attorney, as his common law wife, Mrs. Florence Lytle, mother of Mrs. Shaw, stated. Hardman asked New York authorities to charge Mrs. Shaw and her husband with bigamy because they were married before he obtained a divorce decree. Mrs. Shaw contends she signed a common law marriage contract as a joke in law class.

Alleges Lack of Co-operation.

San Antonio, Tex., March 27.—Ranger Captain B. C. Baldwin, who testified that dry law enforcement in Texas was a "joke" before the senate Daugherty investigation committee, charged in a telegram to Commissioner Haynes that since his return from Washington federal dry officers here had refused to co-operate with state rangers in dry law enforcement.

TO FORM NEW MINISTRY

Premier Poincare Expected to Resume Office Today.

Paris, March 27.—Premier Poincare is expected to remain at the helm and form a new ministry without delay. President Millerand urged the premier to resume office in view of the imminence of the elections to be held in May and the foreign situation, especially with the experts' report due shortly.

Defeat and resignation of Poincare, former president and several times premier of France, came on a comparatively minor issue after the premier had survived storms of criticism for his policy towards Germany and his fiscal program.

The government's pension bill was presented in the chamber of deputies by Count De Lasteyrie, who made it a question of confidence in the government. By a narrow margin, seven votes, the deputies defeated the measure.

Poincare immediately met with his ministers and after some discussion of reforming the cabinet went to the Elysee and presented the resignation of the entire cabinet to the president.

Political observers say Count De Lasteyrie made a grave tactical error in putting the question to the chamber in the form in which he did. The finance minister, they say, is most unpopular anyway, and Poincare may be glad of the opportunity to get rid of him.

It was thought likely that Millerand might persuade Poincare to resume.

Miners Ratify Agreement.

Indianapolis, March 27.—It was announced here that the new wage scale agreement has been ratified by the members of the United Mine Workers' international organization. Present wages and working conditions will continue under the new agreement, which was negotiated at Jacksonville, Fla., last month, and will be in effect for another three years, beginning April 1. Although the contract embraces only the central competitive field, composed of Indiana, Illinois, Ohio and western Pennsylvania, all other coal mining contracts are based on it. At the expiration of the last two preceding wage agreements, the bituminous miners went on strike for a short time.

WOMAN UNDER ARREST

Bonded Liquor From Canada Seized by Cleveland Police.

Cleveland, March 27.—Mrs. Minnie Sack, 30, of Toronto, Canada, is under arrest here. Warrants have been issued here charging two men, alleged companions of Mrs. Sack, with a conspiracy to smuggle into Cleveland wholesale quantities of Canadian liquor. A huge quantity of bonded liquor has been seized and is being held in a United States warehouse. Arraigned before United States Commissioner Martin U. Monahan, Mrs. Sack denied any knowledge of the plot. She was held in county jail in default of $5,000 bail.

Southern to Spend Millions.

St. Louis, March 27.—Ten million dollars' worth of equipment including 23 locomotives, 50 steel passenger cars and 4,250 freight cars, have been purchased by the Southern railway, it was announced.

UNSCENTED SKUNKS RAISED ON FUR FARM

Malodorous Sacs Removed Without Hurting Animals.

Washington.—A new experimental fur farm, stocked in part with unscented skunks, has just been established by the United States biological survey on a 20-acre tract of wooded land in Greenfield township, Saratoga county, New York. F. G. Ashbrook of the bureau's division of economic investigations, has charge of the transfer of the animals from the former and more inaccessible site at Keesville.

Present plans call for a series of modern pens to accommodate silver, black and red foxes, martens, minks, fishers and skunks. The breeding habits of these fur-bearers will be studied and methods of combating disease among them will be worked out.

At Keesville last year martens were successfully bred in captivity for the first time. This work will be continued at the new site and efforts will be made to discover how to breed the fisher, another beautiful fur animal which has hitherto baffled the commercial raiser.

Experiments in fighting disease, such as distemper and hookworm, will be carried forward. Hookworm is one of the most prevalent diseases among captive foxes, and the bureau has worked out an effective means of killing the parasites which produce it by use of the chemical, carbon tetrachloride.

Much trouble was formerly had in administering this remedy, however, as the capsules in which it was given were often broken in the mouths of the foxes, with the result that the carbon tetrachloride often went down their windpipes and suffocated them. Recently the investigators found that by use of a more gelatinous capsule which would mash without breaking, this trouble could be largely prevented. Methods of artificial respiration, similar to those used to revive an apparently drowned man, were also worked out by which the accidentally gassed foxes could be resuscitated.

The skunks raised on the farm have all had their scent sacs removed. This gland operation does not injure the breeding or fur value of these animals which have been held in such bad odor, but makes them more agreeable from an olfactory standpoint.

New York City Plans Club for Girls of Stage

New York.—A clubhouse for stage girls who come to New York from homes of refinement and are compelled to live in cheap hotels or rooming houses while working their way up in the profession, has been decided on by the Association to Promote Housing for Girls, Inc., at the annual meeting at Roosevelt house.

The necessity for providing better living quarters for stage girls was touched on by Lucille La Verne, leading lady in "Sun Up." She described the Cushman club in Philadelphia which is open to girls from any theatrical company.

"No man about town takes girls from this club to the cabarets to dance, to sing and drink until the wee small hours," said Miss La Verne. "We wish there was a club like this in New York and one in every big city in the United States."

Miss Cornelia E. Marshall, president of the association, in her annual report pointed out the desirability of adding to the two groups of houses now operated on a self-supporting basis by the girls who occupy them. These clubs consist of a group of seven houses around 109 East Thirtieth street and a group of four at 86 Macdougall street. Additional funds to purchase buildings, which will be repaid within ten years, and a revolving fund of $50,000 to start the clubhouse are being raised.

200,000 Hurt Annually in Coal Mines in U. S.

Washington.—Injuries from coal mine accidents in the United States total approximately 200,000 a year and represent a tonnage loss of nearly $39,000,000. Estimates made by the bureau of mines, however, showed that only 2 per cent of the accidents result in deaths and less than 5 per cent in permanent disabilities.

Lesson for March 30

REVIEW—ABRAHAM TO SOLOMON

GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord is merciful and gracious, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy.—Ps. 103:8.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Selected Stories of the Quarter.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Great Events of the Quarter.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Chief Persons of the Quarter.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—From Abraham to Solomon.

Since the needs and capacities of the various classes differ so widely, no set method or form of review is possible. For adult classes two methods are suggested.

I. Central Scenes of the Lessons.

Have the pupils prepare brief essays or speeches of two or three minutes on the outstanding historical scenes of each lesson. The following subjects are taken from Peloubet's Notes:

1. Abraham Sets Out for Haran.
2. Jacob Starts for Egypt.
3. Moses at the Burning Bush.
4. Moses Bids the Israelites Cross the Red Sea.
5. Moses Receives the Law on Sinai.
6. The Debate at Kadesh-barnea.
7. The Last March Around Jericho.
8. Gideon Cuts Down His Army.
9. Samuel's Victory at Mizpeh.
10. Saul's Return From the Campaign Against the Amalekites.
11. David Writing the Twenty-third Psalm.
12. Solomon Dedication of the Temple.
13. Summary of the Teaching of Each Lesson.

Lesson I. Abraham was called of the Lord to be the head of the nation through whom the Redeemer was to come, and Palestine was the chosen land. Israel, God's chosen and most favored nation, the nation to whom He came nearest and gave most, in order that it might pass on its goodness to the other nations, was given the most strategic position in the earth. Palestine is practically the center of the earth. It is to be the capital of the world when Jesus shall reign.

Lesson II. Israel's sojourn in Egypt welded them into a nation and taught them a new way to trust God. Through God's providence Joseph was sent to Egypt to preserve Israel until they were ready to enter Canaan.

Lesson III. When the purpose of the sojourn in Egypt was about to be accomplished God prepared a man, Moses by name, to deliver them from bondage and lead them to the Promised Land. God always has his servants in training, so that when the exigency arrives the fit man is ready to execute His will.

Lesson IV. Pharaoh saw the Israelites in a straitened position, and therefore madly pursued them. Having seen the Israelites go through the Red sea dry shod, the Egyptians insanely thought they could follow in their wake. Ruin shall surely follow those who in unbelief attempt to follow in the path of those who walk by faith.

Lesson V. Because of God's unparalleled goodness to Israel, they were under solemn obligation to render obedience to His commandments.

Lesson VI. Through unbelief a tour of investigation was made before entering Canaan. Against the earnest protest of Caleb and Joshua the people refused to enter the land. Because of this God sent them to wander in the wilderness for forty years.

Lesson VII. Upon the death of Moses Joshua was called to lead the people into the land. Though God's servants die His work goes on.

Lesson VIII. While Joshua and the elders of his generation lived, the people remained faithful to God. When they sinned God sent them chastisement by permitting the surrounding nations to oppress them. When they repented and cried to God deliverers in the form of judges were given.

Lesson IX. Under the judges the nation degenerated into a condition of anarchy. Through the ministry of Samuel, the last of the judges, the nation was brought back to God.

Lesson X. Because of their desire to be like other people Israel demanded a king. Saul was given in response to this request. Though blessed with a great opportunity he forfeited God's favor. God removed him from being king and his career ended in disgrace.

Lesson XI. David, a shepherd lad, so prepared himself while looking after his father's sheep, that at the critical moment he slew the Philistine giant. God elevated him to be king, and through his leadership the kingdom was thoroughly organized and all his enemies subdued.

Lesson XII. Because Solomon sought wisdom instead of riches God greatly honored and blessed him.

Laws.

Laws are not invented; they grow out of circumstances.—Azarías.

Extreme Rigor.

An extreme rigor is sure to arm everything against it.—Burke.

Prefer to Be Happy.

Too many wish to be happy before becoming wise.—Mad Necker.

Gone and Past Help.

What's gone and past help should be past grief.—Shakespeare.

Ember and Rogation Days

Ember and rogation days are certain periods of the year devoted to prayer and fasting. Ember days, twelve annually, about the beginning of the four seasons, are the Wednesday, Friday and Saturday after the first Sunday in Lent, in spring; after the feast of Pentecost—Whitsunday—summer; after the festival of the Holy Cross, autumn, and after the festival of St. Lucia, winter. Rogation days occur on the feast of St. Mark, April 25, and on the three days immediately preceding Ascension day.

Hen Cannot Steal

The District court at Chelsea, Mass., ruled that a hen cannot steal and therefore is not amenable to the law. Lady Camille, a hen in a poultry show, was haled into court on charges of larceny for plucking a diamond from a ring on the finger of George A. Hennessey. The court said that Hennessey had no redress against John Strom, the owner of the hen, nor against Lady Camille, who was ordered restored to her coop in the chicken show.—Pathfinder.

A Simple Problem

The professor of mathematics and his fiancée were out roaming in the fields when she plucked the daisy and, looking roguishly at him, began to pull off the petals, saying: "He loves me, he loves me not—"

"You are giving yourself a lot of unnecessary trouble," said the professor. "You should count up the petals, and if the total is an even number, he answer will be in the negative; if a uneven number, in the affirmative."

Film for Home Movies

Motion pictures are made generally available for the home, the classroom, the church, and other non-theatrical purposes by the invention in England of fireproof paper film and a projecting machine that may be operated by anyone. The apparatus may also be used as a giant microscope, for any object of a size capable of being placed within the opening through which the film passes in projection is thrown on the screen in natural color, magnified 2,500 times.—Popular Science.

Sunday School Lesson

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D.D.,
Dean of the Evening School, Moody
Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(© 1924, Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for March 30

REVIEW—ABRAHAM TO SOLOMON

GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord is merciful and gracious, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy.—Ps. 103:8.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Selected Stories of the Quarter.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Great Events of the Quarter.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Chief Persons of the Quarter.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—From Abraham to Solomon.

Since the needs and capacities of the various classes differ so widely, no set method or form of review is possible. For adult classes two methods are suggested.

I. Central Scenes of the Lessons.

Have the pupils prepare brief essays or speeches of two or three minutes on the outstanding historical scenes of each lesson. The following subjects are taken from Peloubet's Notes:

1. Abraham Sets Out for Haran.
2. Jacob Starts for Egypt.
3. Moses at the Burning Bush.
4. Moses Bids the Israelites Cross the Red Sea.
5. Moses Receives the Law on Sinai.
6. The Debate at Kadesh-barnea.
7. The Last March Around Jericho.
8. Gideon Cuts Down His Army.
9. Samuel's Victory at Mizpah.
10. Saul's Return From the Campaign Against the Amalekites.
11. David Writing the Twenty-third Psalm.
12. Solomon Dedication of the Temple.

Lesson I. Abraham was called of the Lord to be the head of the nation through whom the Redeemer was to come, and Palestine was the chosen land. Israel, God's chosen and most favored nation, the nation to whom He came nearest and gave most, in order that it might pass on its goodness to the other nations, was given the most strategic position in the earth. Palestine is practically the center of the earth. It is to be the capital of the world when Jesus shall reign.

Lesson II. Israel's sojourn in Egypt welded them into a nation and taught them a new way to trust God. Through God's providence Joseph was sent to Egypt to preserve Israel until they were ready to enter Canaan.

Lesson III. When the purpose of the sojourn in Egypt was about to be accomplished God prepared a man, Moses by name, to deliver them from bondage and lead them to the Promised Land. God always has his servants in training, so that when the exigency arrives the fit man is ready to execute His will.

Lesson IV. Pharaoh saw the Israelites in a straitened position, and therefore madly pursued them. Having seen the Israelites go through the Red sea dry shod, the Egyptians insanely thought they could follow in their wake. Ruin shall surely follow those who in unbelief attempt to follow in the path of those who walk by faith.

Lesson V. Because of God's unparalleled goodness to Israel, they were under solemn obligation to render obedience to His commandments.

Lesson VI. Through unbelief a tour of investigation was made before entering Canaan. Against the earnest protest of Caleb and Joshua the people refused to enter the land. Because of this God sent them to wander in the wilderness for forty years.

Lesson VII. Upon the death of Moses Joshua was called to lead the people into the land. Though God's servants die His work goes on.

Lesson VIII. While Joshua and the elders of his generation lived, the people remained faithful to God. When they sinned God sent them chastisement by permitting the surrounding nations to oppress them. When they repented and cried to God deliverers in the form of judges were given.

Lesson IX. Under the judges the nation degenerated into a condition of anarchy. Through the ministry of Samuel, the last of the judges, the nation was brought back to God.

Lesson X. Because of their desire to be like other people Israel demanded a king. Saul was given in response to this request. Though blessed with a great opportunity he forfeited God's favor. God removed him from being king and his career ended in disgrace.

Lesson XI. David, a shepherd lad, so prepared himself while looking after his father's sheep, that at the critical moment he slew the Philistine giant. God elevated him to be king, and through his leadership the kingdom was thoroughly organized and all his enemies subdued.

Lesson XII. Because Solomon sought wisdom instead of riches God greatly honored and blessed him.

Laws.
Laws are not invented; they grow out of circumstances.—Azarias.

Extreme Rigor.
An extreme rigor is sure to arm everything against it.—Burke.

Prefer to Be Happy.
Too many wish to be happy before becoming wise.—Mad Necker.

Gone and Past Help.
What's gone and past help should be past grief.—Shakespeare.

Ember and Rogation Days

Ember and rogation days are certain periods of the year devoted to prayer and fasting. Ember days, twelve annually, about the beginning of the four seasons, are the Wednesday, Friday and Saturday after the first Sunday in Lent, in spring; after the feast of Pentecost—Whitsunday—summer; after the festival of the Holy Cross, autumn, and after the festival of St. Lucia, winter. Rogation days occur on the feast of St. Mark, April 25, and on the three days immediately preceding Ascension day.

Hen Cannot Steal

The District court at Chelsea, Mass., ruled that a hen cannot steal and therefore is not amenable to the law. Lady Camille, a hen in a poultry show, was haled into court on charges of larceny for plucking a diamond from a ring on the finger of George A. Hennessey. The court said that Hennessey had no redress against John Strom, the owner of the hen, nor against Lady Camille, who was ordered restored to her coop in the chicken show.—Pathfinder.

A Simple Problem

The professor of mathematics and his fiancée were out roaming in the fields when she plucked the daisy and, looking roguishly at him, began to pull off the petals, saying: "He loves me, he loves me not—"

"You are giving yourself a lot of unnecessary trouble," said the professor. "You should count up the petals, and if the total is an even number, the answer will be in the negative; if a uneven number, in the affirmative."

His Nomination Turned Down by the Senate Oil Committee.

Washington, March 27.—The nomination of Samuel Knight of San Francisco as special government counsel to prosecute claims for sections 18 and 36 in naval oil reserve No. 1 was rejected by the senate oil committee by a vote of 8 to 2. The Grand Union flag, raised at Cambridge, in 1776, was the first used by the American army that had the 13 alternate red and white stripes, the number symbolic of the 13 colonies. PROMINENT FARMER DEAD

Lewis R. Leshner Passed Away at Home in Saltcreek Township.

Was a Most Useful Man in His Community and Held Positions of Honor and Trust—Funeral Services at Whisler Presbyterian Church Friday.

Lewis R. Leshner, a prominent farmer of Saltcreek township, living near Adelphi died Wednesday morning of complications following nearly a year's illness.

The deceased was born September 12, 1839, in Berks county, Pennsylvania, and was the son of Samuel and Sarah A. Reber Leshner.

He was twenty-three years of age when he came to this county. For a while he clerked for his uncle, William Leshner, but confinement in a store undermined his health and with the hope of regaining it, he took up farming and became one of the county's most successful agriculturalists.

Mr. Leshner married Miss Mary Lutz daughter of Honorable and Mrs. Samuel Lutz, August 2, 1863. Her father was a centenarian and at one time represented this county in the legislature. She died in 1919.

Three children survive; Samuel H. Leshner of the Adelphi Banking company; Charles Leshner of this city, and Miss Elizabeth Leshner, at home.

Politically Mr. Leshner was a Republican. He had served his party both as trustee and as treasurer of Saltcreek township, performing all the duties of these offices with efficiency.

Mr. Leshner was a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church at Whisler of which he was deacon and trustee and for some years treasurer. Fraternally he was a member of the Odd Fellows lodge of Adelphi.

About a year ago he bought the home of Roy McMullen on West Franklin street, but owing to his impaired health, was never able to remove his residence to this city.

The funeral services will be held at the Whisler Presbyterian church Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

GROWING UP.

The Williamsport News, which is ably edited by Fred L. Tipton has come out as a seven column paper and also with a new head. When a boy takes off his knee breeches and arranges himself in long trousers you have to notice him some and that's the reason we are giving the "News" a page. Mr. Tipton has certainly improved the looks of his weekly and we wish him success.

Plans Larger Dry Navy.

New York, March 27.—Captain William V. A. Jacobs, divisional commander of the coast guard, disclosed plans for mobilizing a dry navy of 65 armed vessels and 500 men, which, he declared, would scatter the coast rum fleet and halt liquor smuggling by passenger liners before the year's end. He said he would assign a destroyer, cutter or speed boat, equipped with one pounders and machine guns, as a day and night guard over every vessel or rum row.

Virtue of Cold Water.

We have read that if a man on the wrong side of fifty, getting out of cold water, finds the bathroom looking glass fogged, he may continue his practice safely, knowing that it is beneficial; that there are some who when the water is only a little above freezing point find it necessary "to towel only their head and their feet, natural evaporation doing the rest."

BORN

To Mr. and Mrs. William Fowler, of this city, Monday, March 25, 1924, a daughter.

To Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kimble, 215 East Union street, Wednesday, March 26, 1924, a daughter.

W. H. Pinnix and Others Members of the Circleville Guards.

W. H. Pinnix, of 87 West Fourth avenue, Columbus, sends us the following:

"I have just read of the death of Edmund Moeller and it makes me stop and think of the many pleasant days we spent together as members of that famous organization, the old Circleville Guards, of which I had the honor of being one of its charter members. I recall with pleasure our trip to Newark during the railroad strike of 1877. Captain C. E. Groce in command and Rev. William McMillan as chaplain.

"You state in your obituary of Mr. Moeller that only seven of the original company are living, but if my memory serves me right I still can recall James Swearingen, Captain O. F. Thompson, Captain Leo Anderson, Major J. C. Anderson and your humble servant, who are 'still on the surface' and who if called upon would respond with, present or accounted for."

KNIGHT REJECTED

His Nomination Turned Down by the Senate Oil Committee.

Washington, March 27.—The nomination of Samuel Knight of San Francisco as special government counsel to prosecute claims for sections 18 and 36 in naval oil reserve No. 1 was rejected by the senate oil committee by a vote of 8 to 2. Knight's nomination was opposed by Senator Walsh of Montana on the ground that he was indirectly connected with the Standard Oil company, which now holds one of the two sections. Knight was said to be attorney for the Equitable Trust company of New York, a Standard Oil bank.

Dazzling Flag.

The Grand Union flag, raised at Cambridge, in 1776, was the first used by the American army that had the 13 alternate red and white stripes, the number symbolic of the 13 colonies. Many flags were proposed during the Revolution and the early days of the republic. One of these designed by Thomas Paine, was composed of all the colors of the rainbow, symbolizing peace.

PROMINENT FARMER DEAD

Lewis R. Leshner Passed Away at Home in Saltcreek Township.

Was a Most Useful Man in His Community and Held Positions of Honor and Trust—Funeral Services at Whisler Presbyterian Church Friday.

Lewis R. Leshner, a prominent farmer of Saltcreek township, living near Adelphi died Wednesday morning of complications following nearly a year's illness.

The deceased was born September 12, 1839, in Berks county, Pennsylvania, and was the son of Samuel and Sarah A. Reber Leshner.

He was twenty-three years of age when he came to this county. For a while he clerked for his uncle, William Leshner, but confinement in a store undermined his health and with the hope of regaining it, he took up farming and became one of the county's most successful agriculturalists.

Mr. Leshner married Miss Mary Lutz daughter of Honorable and Mrs. Samuel Lutz, August 2, 1863. Her father was a centenarian and at one time represented this county in the legislature. She died in 1919.

Three children survive; Samuel H. Leshner of the Adelphi Banking company; Charles Leshner of this city, and Miss Elizabeth Leshner, at home.

Politically Mr. Leshner was a Republican. He had served his party both as trustee and as treasurer of Saltcreek township, performing all the duties of these offices with efficiency.

Mr. Leshner was a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church at Whisler of which he was deacon and trustee and for some years treasurer. Fraternally he was a member of the Odd Fellows lodge of Adelphi.

About a year ago he bought the home of Roy McMullen on West Franklin street, but owing to his impaired health, was never able to remove his residence to this city.

The funeral services will be held at the Whisler Presbyterian church Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

GROWING UP.

The Williamsport News, which is ably edited by Fred L. Tipton has come out as a seven column paper and also with a new head. When a boy takes off his knee breeches and arrays himself in long trousers you have to notice him some and that's the reason we are giving the "News" a paging. Mr. Tipton has certainly improved the looks of his weekly and we wish him success.

Plans Larger Dry Navy.

New York, March 27.—Captain William V. A. Jacobs, divisional commander of the coast guard, disclosed plans for mobilizing a dry navy of 65 armed vessels and 500 men, which, he declared, would scatter the coast rum fleet and halt liquor smuggling by passenger liners before the year's end. He said he would assign a destroyer, cutter or speed boat, equipped with one pounders and machine guns, as a day and night guard over every vessel or rum row.

Virtue of Cold Water.

We have read that if a man on the wrong side of fifty, getting out of cold water, finds the bathroom looking-glass fogged, he may continue his practice safely, knowing that it is beneficial; that there are some who when the water is only a little above freezing point find it necessary "to towel only their head and their feet, natural evaporation doing the rest."

W. H. Pinnix, of 87 West Fourth avenue, Columbus, sends us the following:

"I have just read of the death of Edmund Moeller and it makes me stop and think of the many pleasant days we spent together as members of that famous organization, the old Circleville Guards, of which I had the honor of being one of its charter members. I recall with pleasure our trip to Newark during the railroad strike of 1877. Captain C. E. Groce in command and Rev. William McMillan as chaplain.

"You state in your obituary of Mr. Moeller that only seven of the original company are living, but if my memory serves me right I still can recall James Swearingen, Captain O. F. Thompson, Captain Leo Anderson, Major J. C. Anderson and your humble servant, who are 'still on the surface' and who if called upon would respond with, present or accounted for."

GUY HOWARD
Williamsport Boy Made Address Before Lima Lions Club.
 Guy Howard, manager of the Lima Ohio, branch of the North American Life Insurance company and a former Williamsport boy recently gave a talk before the Lions club of Lima, on the subject of "Success."
 Concerning his address, a Lima newspaper states: "Howard likened character to the hairspring of a watch the main spring being personality. He emphasized the fact that one should constantly keep trying after failures. 'Jump aboard the joy special,' he said and when you come to the right station get off and start life anew. If things again go wrong, get the special on its next trip and try again."
 Guy has made good in the insurance business in Lima, where he has charge of a dozen agents for the North American company and we guess he has almost everybody in that "neck of the woods" paying life insurance premiums. — Williamsport News.

TEMPERANCE WOMEN MEET

Successful Institute Held at Home of Mrs. Howard Cupp Thursday.

Superintendents of Departments Make Interesting Reports — Biographical Sketch of Neal Dow, Great Reformer — Bible in the Public Schools.

The Ashville Woman's Christian Temperance Union held a very interesting and successful institute at the home of Mrs. Howard Cupp, Thursday March 20.

The morning session opened with a song service. The President Mrs. Ada E. Van Vickle, presided and the devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Mr. Mills. Short reports followed by several superintendents of department work. Mrs. Jennie Hudson reported the flower mission department, saying that from last September to the present month a total of 444 calls had been made by the members of the Ashville W. C. T. U. on the sick, 129 lunches had been donated and 43 bouquets sent. Mrs. Elizabeth Wright, reported for the evangelistic department and Mrs. Adda Prushing and Mrs. Lucy Cline reported for their department and Mrs. Shook and Mrs. Cupp reported for the anti-narcotic department.

The president reported she had given out for the pupils in the high school in Ashville and the seventh and eighth grades 162 leaflets explaining the injurious effects of tobacco, especially cigarettes and all who use tobacco in any form, especially children, who in many cases become addicted very young. Statistics say that 1500 American boys are beginning to smoke cigarets every day.

Mrs. Luella Duvall reported four social meetings had been held, three red letter days observed. Mrs. Taylor reported for the cradle roll department nine babies on the roll which will be taken into this department by the president at an all day meeting to be held in June in a special service and the white ribbon tied on each little wrist.

A paper was read telling what the jubilee dollars that the W. C. T. U. have raised is doing, all were made to feel these dollars are doing a great and much needed work. The usual business of the Union was transacted and the noon tide song was sung, and the meeting adjourned for the box luncheon. A delightfully informal and social time was enjoyed during the noon time recess, until the opening of the afternoon session at 2 o'clock. Selections were rendered on the player piano during the noon recess.

The afternoon session was opened by scripture reading by Mrs. Cordray prayer followed led by Mrs. Cline. The roll was called showing a large membership and a large number of members in attendance. A parliamentary study was taken up and a discussion as to what are the duties of each officer of the W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Nickleson spoke in regard to Bibles in the public schools. She said that six more Bibles were needed in the Ashville schools. The Union by unanimous vote decided to purchase the Bibles soon and place one in each of the six rooms.

A very interesting leaflet was read by Mrs. Fortner, a biographical sketch of Neal Dow. This great reformer was born in Portland, Maine, in 1804, in a house still standing on Congress street. When Neal Dow was scarcely six years old he made his first argument for prohibition. His father had an old-fashioned silver watch, too large to be carried and so hung on the wall. One day Neal took it down and succeeded in breaking it. His father rebuked him, but the little fellow replied that the watch should have been kept out of his reach—surely a good argument for removing temptation.

With a broad view of men and affairs in general Mr. Dow believed that the only wise and consistent course for a man to follow was the way of total abstinence. One evening a woman he knew, called to see him and asked if he would try to induce a certain liquor dealer not to sell her husband any more strong drink. With ready acquiescence Mr. Dow called to see the saloon keeper and made the request. The man said that he had a license to sell and that he would do so, and that he did not care to have Mr. Dow "whining around" his place of business. Speaking of the occurrence Mr. Dow said he was surprised, disappointed and indignant and he replied to the effect that sooner or later he would see that he and all like him were driven from the community unless they abandoned their infamous business. As Mr. Dow reflected upon it he became more strongly convinced and his duty was clear. From that day he followed what he believed to be his duty with such strength of body, mind and purpose as God gave him. It is not necessary to tell of the many steps taken to secure the prohibitory law of Maine. It is enough to say that it was first enacted June 2, 1851, repealed in a short time after and reenacted to stand, as we believe, for all time.

As a speaker and worker in temperance cause Mr. Dow was well known in England as well as in the United States. He spent three years in Great Britain, where he performed a large amount of labor, wholly without compensation.

In 1894, when he had reached the age of 90 years the Woman's Christian Temperance Union conceived the idea of honoring him by holding great meetings all over the world. One of these was held in his home city and was a fitting tribute to his long and useful life. In 1897 at the age of 93 years and seven months he closed his earthly existence and passed on to the beautiful life beyond.

Mrs. Lucy E. Price, the county president, gave a very instructive and interesting talk pertaining to the work. The program was diversified by several musical numbers including a beautiful vocal solo by Rev. Mr. Mills entitled "It's in the Constitution, and It is There to Stay." Miss Lillian Linger contributed an instrumental solo, little Miss Mills gave a little song and little Miss Alexander gave a reading in her own sweet way and was called back for another to which she responded.

The program closed by singing the grand old hymn, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." Five new members were added during the day to this already large and flourishing Union. Among the visitors in attendance were Mrs. E. L. Price and Mrs. S. W. Dunlap, of Circleville.

GUY HOWARD
Williamsport Boy Made Address Before Lima Lions Club.

Guy Howard, manager of the Lima Ohio, branch of the North American Life Insurance company and a former Williamsport boy recently gave a talk before the Lions club of Lima, on the subject of "Success."

Concerning his address, a Lima newspaper states: "Howard likened character to the hairspring of a watch the main spring being personality. He emphasized the fact that one should constantly keep trying after failures. 'Jump aboard the joy special,' he said and when you come to the right station get off and start life anew. If things again go wrong, get the special on its next trip and try again."

Guy has made good in the insurance business in Lima, where he has charge of a dozen agents for the North American company and we guess he has almost everybody in that "neck of the woods" paying life insurance premiums. — Williamsport News.

TEMPERANCE WOMEN MEET

Successful Institute Held at Home of Mrs. Howard Cupp Thursday.

Superintendents of Departments Make Interesting Reports — Biographical Sketch of Neal Dow, Great Reformer — Bible in the Public Schools.

The Ashville Woman's Christian Temperance Union held a very interesting and successful institute at the home of Mrs. Howard Cupp, Thursday March 20.

The morning session opened with a song service. The President Mrs. Ada E. Van Vickie, presided and the devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Mr. Mills. Short reports followed by several superintendents of department work. Mrs. Jennie Hudson reported the flower mission department, saying that from last September to the present month a total of 444 calls had been made by the members of the Ashville W. C. T. U. on the sick, 129 lunches had been donated and 43 bouquets sent. Mrs. Elizabeth Wright, reported for the evangelistic department and Mrs. Adda Prushing and Mrs. Lucy Cline reported for their department and Mrs. Shook and Mrs. Cupp reported for the anti-narcotic department.

The president reported she had given out for the pupils in the high school in Ashville and the seventh and eighth grades 162 leaflets explaining the injurious effects of tobacco, especially cigarettes and all who use tobacco in any form, especially children, who in many cases become addicted very young. Statistics say that 1500 American boys are beginning to smoke cigarettes every day.

Mrs. Luella Duvall reported four social meetings had been held, three red letter days observed. Mrs. Taylor reported for the cradle roll department nine babies on the roll which will be taken into this department by the president at an all day meeting to be held in June in a special service and the white ribbon tied on each little wrist.

A paper was read telling what the jubilee dollars that the W. C. T. U. have raised is doing, all were made to feel these dollars are doing a great and much needed work. The usual business of the Union was transacted and the noon tide song was sung, and the meeting adjourned for the box luncheon. A delightfully informal and social time was enjoyed during the noon time recess, until the opening of the afternoon session at 2 o'clock. Selections were rendered on the player piano during the noon recess.

The afternoon session was opened by scripture reading by Mrs. Cordray prayer followed led by Mrs. Cline. The roll was called showing a large membership and a large number of members in attendance. A parliamentary study was taken up and a discussion as to what are the duties of each officer of the W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Nickleson spoke in regard to Bibles in the public schools. She said that six more Bibles were needed in the Ashville schools. The Union by unanimous vote decided to purchase the Bibles soon and place one in each of the six rooms.

A very interesting leaflet was read by Mrs. Fortner, a biographical sketch of Neal Dow. This great reformer was born in Portland, Maine, in 1804, in a house still standing on Congress street. When Neal Dow was scarcely six years old he made his first argument for prohibition. His father had an old-fashioned silver watch, too large to be carried and so hung on the wall. One day Neal took it down and succeeded in breaking it. His father rebuked him, but the little fellow replied that the watch should have been kept out of his reach—surely a good argument for removing temptation.

With a broad view of men and affairs in general Mr. Dow believed that the only wise and consistent course for a man to follow was the way of total abstinence. One evening a woman he knew, called to see him and asked if he would try to induce a certain liquor dealer not to sell her husband any more strong drink. With ready acquiescence Mr. Dow called to see the saloon keeper and made the request. The man said that he had a license to sell and that he would do so, and that he did not care to have Mr. Dow "whining around" his place of business. Speaking of the occurrence Mr. Dow said he was surprised, disappointed and indignant and he replied to the effect that sooner or later he would see that he and all like him were driven from the community unless they abandoned their infamous business. As Mr. Dow reflected upon it he became more strongly convinced and his duty was clear. From that day he followed what he believed to be his duty with such strength of body, mind and purpose as God gave him. It is not necessary to tell of the many steps taken to secure the prohibitory law of Maine. It is enough to say that it was first enacted June 2, 1851, repealed in a short time after and reenacted to stand, as we believe, for all time.

LOVE, COOKS, KISSES

By GRACE P. ABBOTT

COLLEGE had not been open very long, yet long enough for Ernest Clarence Dudley to receive the name by which he was to be known for the rest of his four college years. "Prep" school days had left Ernest's heart unscathed as far as the fair sex was concerned, and he had started in his college career quite free from even thoughts of them when the strange thing had happened.

She sat beside him in French class and she was what was known as a "shark." She ate it up—those undecidable irregular verbs; she read it like an English primer, that jumbled mess of translation, and Ernest, to whom French was all so much "Greek," soon found it convenient to sit next to Lee in class. Lee was clever and Lee knew what she was about.

To Lee, Ernest was everything. His tall, angular frame spelled manhood, and to her his bone-rimmed glasses denoted deep thought and heavy learning. His leaning nearer to her, to catch the correct answer to the occasional question thrown his way, was the thrill of a lifetime. And so, all at once, Ernest found himself walking with Lee, and when Lee produced a "chum," Ernest produced a "buddy," and the four had great times.

The chum, one Esther, was a math, mind, and Ernest and his buddy, Isaac Love, also struggled through trigonometry. Isaac did not wear a tie and learned look for nothing. He knew just enough to know that unless he got immediate help he would never pass the course, and he knew enough to remember the translations and to set down the problems to tell all over again to Ernest later.

And so the course of their early loves ran smoothly, until one day two new members were thrust into the same divisions of French and math. That Isaac and Ernest had become very nearly the stars of, and by virtue of the alphabetical arrangement of classes they were put next to Esther and Lee in each class. Trouble began! For, alas, the Cooks were all as tall as Ernest and Isaac and all as eager for help, and there were Lee and Esther well trained for the part.

"Honestly, Esther, I think they are wonderful, don't you?" Lee had cooed amid blushes and giggles.

"And so good-looking," Esther had breathed.

This, one night when Esther was staying with Lee, who was a "town girl."

"Let's make some candy—want to? I've been hungry for some all day," Lee suggested.

"I'd love to make it. I can't make it fit to eat. You make it, and I'll do the translation."

Lee made molasses candy and they had great fun when the time came to pull it. They went out on the back porch and laughed and laughed.

Ernest wanted to come over to-night and bring Mr. Love, but I said we were going to be busy."

"I know it. Isaac wrote me a note, and they thought the Cooks were coming over."

"Honestly? Well, there are two cooks here." The girls laughed in high glee.

Then the inspiration struck them, and they sent a box of candy to the fraternity house with the note inside: "For you two Cooks from us two cooks," and went to bed in a happy glow of excitement.

Ernest had kept close watch of the comings and goings of the twins ever since they had gained such a strong footing in French class, and it was not to be wondered at that the next afternoon found him in their room. As it happened, the twins were out, but on their table was a box of gluey candy, and the note: "For you two Cooks from us two cooks."

Ernest knew the writing. His wrath rose. Also on the desk were scattered sheets of note paper and an envelope addressed to Lee Cooper. It was rotten to do it, but "all is fair in love and war," and Ernest was, at last, in love, so he read the scattered sheets. On one was written:

"We were proud to receive,
You may well believe,
Such lov-er-ly kisses
From two such sweet misses."

And on another:

"Would suit Kibby no better
If Esther knit him a sweater
He says if the world holds a worse
Cook."

He never has met her."

It was plain to see which was meant to reach the ladies in question, and plain to see which was the true sentiments. The envelope was addressed. Ernest wasted no time. He inclosed the last two scrawled scraps and mailed them and left a note to "Kibby" and "Chief."

No little wonder that Esther gave out no more knowledge to her once adorable Cook. No little wonder that Lee sat grimly by while "Chief" barked his way through French.

The Cooks discovered the mistake done for them, of course, but being tender hearted, they let the other boys have the right of way.

Ernest had written: "You let Lee alone. I've got an option on that girl and I Dewey Love will speak to you later for himself."

From that day on they were known as "I Dewey Love," and "Ernie Option." Sometimes in private the boys added, "the men whose misses made the world's worst kisses." But perhaps, after all, it was jealousy, for neither "Ernie Option" nor "I Dewey Love" found anything wrong with the best, queer creatures.

Neon Lighting

For the first time in Great Britain an installation of neon lighting is now being applied outside the London Coliseum. The apparatus is one of the most interesting evolved since the introduction of electric lighting. Neon lighting is carried out by means of glass tubes from which the air has been exhausted and replaced by a small quantity of pure neon gas at a pressure very much below ordinary atmospheric pressure. This neon gas is rendered incandescent by the passage of a high voltage alternating current, passing between two metal electrodes fitted at the ends of the tube, the color of the incandescent gas being a peculiarly rich form of flame color. By means of a rotary converter the direct current supplied from the street mains is converted into alternating current that is required to operate the light.—Chemical Age (London).

Father of Brass Bands

The brass band has existed for less than a century. "That little German band" was the father of all modern brass bands. Along about 1840, in Germany, the "band" was born, though actually the first collection of outdoor instruments which history traces dates back to the Saracens, whom the crusaders met in the Holy Land in the Middle Ages.

The first bands in Germany were called "thunder bands," because they played in towers. For almost half a century the brass band was almost solely an army unit. The great bands of history were regimental bands. Germany even appointed a bandmaster-general, Wleprecht, who invented the bass tuba, the giant bass horn of today.—Detroit News.

Right Ski Shorter for Purpose

In the olden times, the soldiers of Norway were all equipped with skis. They then had the right one made two feet shorter than the left to allow of making short, quick turns. The beginner on this will always meet with many falls, but after short practice will find them great fun in gliding down hills and over the snow drifts.

She ate it up—those undecidable irregular verbs; she read it like an English primer, that jumbled mess of translation, and Ernest, to whom French was all so much "Greek," soon found it convenient to sit next to Lee in class. Lee was clever and Lee knew what she was about.

To Lee, Ernest was everything. His tall, angular frame spelled manhood, and to her his bone-rimmed glasses denoted deep thought and heavy learning. His leaning nearer to her, to catch the correct answer to the occasional question thrown his way, was the thrill of a lifetime. And so, all at once, Ernest found himself walking with Lee, and when Lee produced a "chum," Ernest produced a "buddy," and the four had great times.

The chum, one Esther, was a math. girl, and Ernest and his buddy, Isaac Love, also struggled through trigonometry. Isaac did not wear a troubled and learned look for nothing. He knew just enough to know that unless he got immediate help he would never pass the course, and he knew enough to remember the translations and to set down the problems to tell all over again to Ernest later.

And so the course of their early loves ran smoothly, until one day two new members were thrust into the same divisions of French and math. But Isaac and Ernest had become very nearly the stars of, and by virtue of the alphabetical arrangement of classes they were put next to Esther and Lee in each class. Trouble began! For, alas, the Cooks were all as full as Ernest and Isaac and all as eager for help, and there were Lee and Esther well trained for the part.

"Honestly, Esther, I think they are wonderful, don't you?" Lee had cooed amid blushes and giggles.

"And so good-looking," Esther had breathed.

This, one night when Esther was staying with Lee, who was a "town girl."

"Let's make some candy—want to? I've been hungry for some all day," Lee suggested.

"I'd love to make it. I can't make it fit to eat. You make it, and I'll do the translation."

Lee made molasses candy and they had great fun when the time came to pull it. They went out on the back porch and laughed and laughed.

"Ernest wanted to come over tonight and bring Mr. Love, but I said we were going to be busy."

"I know it. Isaac wrote me a note, and they thought the Cooks were coming over."

"Honestly? Well, there are two cooks here." The girls laughed in high glee. Then the inspiration struck them, and they sent a box of candy to the fraternal house with the note inside: "For you two Cooks from us two cooks," and went to bed in a happy glow of excitement.

Ernest had kept close watch of the comings and goings of the twins ever since they had gained such a strong footing in French class, and it was not to be wondered at that the next afternoon found him in their room. As it happened, the twins were out, but on their table was a box of gluey candy, and the note: "For you two Cooks from us two cooks."

Ernest knew the writing. His wrath rose. Also on the desk were scattered sheets of note paper and an envelope addressed to Lee Cooper. It was rotten to do it, but "all is fair in love and war," and Ernest was, at last, in love, so he read the scattered sheets. On one was written:

"We were proud to receive,
You may well believe,
Such lovely kisses
From two such sweet misses."

And on another:

"I would suit Kibby no better
If Esther knit him a sweater
He says if the world holds a worse
Cook
He never has met her."

It was plain to see which was meant to reach the ladies in question, and plain to see which was the true sentiments. The envelope was addressed. Ernest wasted no time. He inclosed the last two scrawled scraps and mailed them and left a note to "Kibby" and "Chief."

No little wonder that Esther gave out no more knowledge to her once adorable Cook. No little wonder that Lee sat grimly by while "Chief" bumbled his way through French.

The Cooks discovered the mistake done for them, of course, but being tender hearted, they let the other boys have the right of way.

Ernest had written: "You let Lee alone. I've got an option on that girl and I Dewey Love will speak to you later for himself."

From that day on they were known as "I Dewey Love," and "Ernie Option." Sometimes in private the boys added, "the men whose misses made the world's worst kisses." But perhaps, after all, it was jealousy, for neither "Ernie Option" nor "I Dewey Love" found anything wrong with the brand or the quality. And men are, best, queer creatures.

Neon Lighting

For the first time in Great Britain an installation of neon lighting is now being applied outside the London Coliseum. The apparatus is one of the most interesting evolved since the introduction of electric lighting. Neon lighting is carried out by means of glass tubes from which the air has been exhausted and replaced by a small quantity of pure neon gas at a pressure very much below ordinary atmospheric pressure. This neon gas is rendered incandescent by the passage of a high voltage alternating current, passing between two metal electrodes fitted at the ends of the tube, the color of the incandescent gas being a peculiarly rich form of flame color. By means of a rotary converter the direct current supplied from the street mains is converted into alternating current that is required to operate the light.—Chemical Age (London).

Father of Brass Bands

The brass band has existed for less than a century. "That little German band" was the father of all modern brass bands. Along about 1840, in Germany, the "band" was born, though actually the first collection of outdoor instruments which history traces dates back to the Saracens, whom the crusaders met in the Holy Land in the Middle Ages.

The first bands in Germany were called "thurner bands," because they played in towers. For almost half a century the brass band was almost solely an army unit. The great bands of history were regimental bands. Germany even appointed a bandmaster-general, Wleprecht, who invented the bass tuba, the giant bass horn of today.—Detroit News.

Right Ski Shorter for Purpose

In the olden times, the soldiers of Norway were all equipped with skis. They then had the right one made two feet shorter than the left to allow of making short, quick turns. The beginner on this will always meet with many falls, but after short practice will find them great fun in gliding down hills and over the snow drifts.

BECOMES WEALTHY BY RAISING CATNIP

Long Islander Raises Family on Profits From Crops.

Many there are who know the catnip man of Paddy's market, now past threescore and ten, an exchange says. He has a snug fortune and a house out on Long Island because he knows how to cater to cat aristocracy. Most persons think catnip is just catnip, just as there were certain ones in olden days who spoke of "opening wine." There are qualities of catnip just as there used to be Burgundy and Graves and Chateau Yquem.

When he first went into the business of providing the delicacy for the pampered favorites of catdom, the catnip man had only a basket and a smiling face. He knew, however, the banks where the sweet herbs grew.

He was not content to serve ordinary leaves, so to speak, but went in for high-class "first chop." There are many persons who own estates on Long Island. They did not care if the man who ministered to the happiness of cats did stop beneath their hedges or walk about the private grounds to gather up his wares.

He soon found a way to force or cultivate catnip with extra large leaves. Whenever he found a little bed of the herb growing luxuriantly of itself he thinned it out so as to give the hardest of the plants more room. If the quality of the plant was good but the soil not up to his standard, he brought a basket of fertilizer and improved the bearing qualities.

On certain days the catnip man makes the rounds of the stores where cats are for sale with a basket filled with bunches of selected, highly cultured leaf. He never gives just the run of the bed. Every sprig is hand sorted after it is hand picked. When winter comes and the supply is more scarce, he has cured catnip ready. It is no drug store herb, all pressed into a cake, but is full-flavored leaf.

His sales may seem to be small, yet many of the largest dealers buy this catnip at wholesale. When he sells in Paddy's market and in that neighborhood about Ninth avenue and Forty-second street, he gives good, liberal portions and makes speedy sales--especially in winter. By supplying the tonic for felines all the year round and building up a clientele the catnip man soon found that he was slowly but surely accumulating a fortune. He built a house on catnip "revenue," bought some land on catnip, "and on catnip he brought up a large family and educated them."

On one grave a milliner in Ketchikan, Alaska, recognized a long wreath of flowers as having been purchased at her shop. Miss Murray has the role of two sisters, one of them a Broadway actress who gives up her stage career to marry, and the other a Russian peasant girl. The arrival of Zita, and the appearance of a man who belonged to Olga Farinova's past, complicate matters for Olga.

Miss Murray's gowns and dances are high lights of "Fashion Row" while there are many scenes of lavish beauty. Earle Foxe, Freeman Wood, Elmo Lincoln and Mathilde Brundage are in the cast. "Fashion Row" was directed by Robert Z. Leonard, director general of Tiffany Productions, of which M. A. Hoffman is general manager. Sada Cowan and Howard Higgin wrote the story for Miss Murray. Oliver T. Marsh was photographer, and Horace Jackson are director. "Fashion Row" is a Metro picture.

"Swan Songs."

There is an old superstition that the swan breaks into song at the approach of death. Hence the expression "swan song" is often used to refer to a last poem or musical work written just before the composer's death. The expression has also extended to apply to the last speech of a politician before being forced into obscurity.

Origin of Fireworks.

It may be assumed that we really owe fireworks to the Florentines and Sieneese. They began their feasts of St. John the Baptist and the Assumption with wooden edifices, adorned with painted statues, and from the mouth and eyes of which issued a beautiful fire. Dragons, swans, eagles, etc., built on such a large scale as to carry many persons, were also made to emit amusing fireworks.

The most beautiful of all human relationships are based on CONFIDENCE. Love is based on confidence, friendship is based on confidence, happy marriages are based on confidence; and so, confidence is the highest aim a business institution can achieve, because it introduces into the processes of buying and selling, something of the unselfish quality of those sacred human relationships that are untouched and uncontaminated by money. This store never wants to be guilty of such bad taste as to claim perfection, but it makes no secret of its ambition to foster and deserve at all times the confidence of its customers.

"Fashion Row," described as the most sumptuous and entertaining of Mae Murray's pictures, will come to the Met theater today. Miss Murray has the role of two sisters, one of them a Broadway actress who gives up her stage career to marry, and the other a Russian peasant girl. The arrival of Zita, and the appearance of a man who belonged to Olga Farinova's past, complicate matters for Olga.

Miss Murray's gowns and dances are high lights of "Fashion Row" while there are many scenes of lavish beauty. Earle Foxe, Freeman Wood, Elmo Lincoln and Mathilde Brundage are in the cast. "Fashion Row" was directed by Robert Z. Leonard, director general of Tiffany Productions, of which M. A. Hoffman is general manager. Sada Cowan and Howard Higgin wrote the story for Miss Murray. Oliver T. Marsh was photographer, and Horace Jackson are director. "Fashion Row" is a Metro picture.

"Swan Songs."
There is an old superstition that the swan breaks into song at the approach of death. Hence the expression "swan song" is often used to refer to a last poem or musical work written just before the composer's death. The expression has also extended to apply to the last speech of a politician before being forced into obscurity.

Origin of Fireworks.
It may be assumed that we really owe fireworks to the Florentines and Sieneese. They began their feasts of St. John the Baptist and the Assumption with wooden edifices, adorned with painted statues, and from the mouth and eyes of which issued a beautiful fire. Dragons, swans, eagles, etc., built on such a large scale as to carry many persons, were also made to emit amusing fireworks.

CONFIDENCE

The most beautiful of all human relationships are based on CONFIDENCE. Love is based on confidence, friendship is based on confidence, happy marriages are based on confidence; and so, confidence is the highest aim a business institution can achieve, because it introduces into the processes of buying and selling, something of the unselfish quality of those sacred human relationships that are untouched and uncontaminated by money. This store never wants to be guilty of such bad taste as to claim perfection, but it makes no secret of its ambition to foster and deserve at all times the confidence of its customers.

There is no higher success than TO BE BELIEVED IN!
